5. Lead School/Board of Studies:

School of Fine Art

6. Course Contact:

John Calcutt

7. Course Aims:

The course aims to:

- Further develop students' ability to critically evaluate their practice in relation to recent issues within historical, critical and theoretical fields of enquiry
- Enable students to begin to resolve their practice on the basis of critical re-appraisal
- Develop students' abilities to present their work to a professional standard
- Promote a level of creativity, originality and initiative in response to critical, theoretical and historical issues
- Develop the ability to identify and formulate new critical insights into established practice
- Foster further skills and confidence in the preparation and presentation, both written and oral, of research-based critical analysis.

8. Intended Learning Outcomes of Course:

At the end of the Course at this Stage each student should have the ability to demonstrate and/or work with:

- An understanding of the critical balance between research and practice in the planning of a significant project within studio practice

- The intellectual and creative abilities necessary to identify and characterise problems and issues arising from historical and theoretical aspects of practice

Each student should have the ability to

- Demonstrate a high level of originality and creativity in the development of knowledge and practice
- Develop original and informed responses to problems and issues arising from critical analysis
- Translate the principles of research to a written topic relevant to her/his own studio practice
- Apply a significant range of the skills and techniques associated with current developments in fine art
- Work constructively with others in a variety of educational, institutional and professional situations
- Respond in an informed manner to the views and positions of others
- Use a range of skills, techniques and media to communicate with peers and staff via seminar presentations

9. Indicative Content:

Following on from the critical review of studio practice at Stage 1, Stage 2 concentrates upon the consolidation of those earlier developments. In other words, this is a time when the insights gained from the critical review should start to find an increasingly resolved form. The culmination of this process is marked by the Interim Exhibition, which takes place towards the end of Stage 2. The Interim Exhibition is held within GSA exhibition spaces (Mackintosh Gallery and Newbery Gallery), and provides the opportunity not only for MFA students to publicly display their work, but also to present work to a high level of professionalism for the purposes of assessment.

10. Description of Summative Assessment:

The attainment of learning outcomes relevant to the studio component of Core Course II will be assessed by staff with experience in this field. They will take into consideration both the Interim Exhibition and the studio work completed afterwards. A grade in accordance with the Code of Assessment will be awarded.

The assessment results for all courses will be brought together at an internal moderation meeting and examining MFA staff will decide on a total grade.

At the internal exam board, the integrated grade and the decision on student's progression to stage 3 will be confirmed. The internal exam board will also decide if attainment lower than 'D' could be remedied by re-submission of work for re-assessment at a later date.

The results from the internal exam board will be moderated where necessary and confirmed by the external examiner at the Postgraduate (Taught) Examination Board.

10.1 Please describe the Summative Assessment arrangements:

11. Formative Assessment:

Students contribute work to a critical feedback session (group critique), normally situated outside of the individual studios in a larger setting, which precedes the Progress Review and thus feeds into and forms a part of the written formative assessment.

Students are asked to present work in the MFA Interim Exhibition, which normally will be held in a gallery on campus in term three of the academic session. The students' contribution to the Interim exhibition is regarded as part of the work presented for assessment for the end of Core Course II. Staff will award a grade in accordance with Code of Assessment.

Students write a critical Self-Evaluation Report on their progress to date in both the studio and theoretical aspects of Core Course II, referring to the Learning Outcomes at this stage and their progress so far. MFA staff will respond via a tutorial and a written response (the Progress Review) to each student's Self-Evaluation Report, outlining those areas in which the student may need to improve. If any student wishes to discuss his or her Progress Review Report, such student may request a meeting with MFA staff.
